Rezumat

I'm interested to work contract based, flexible program or part-time jobs.

I have always been passionate about Front-end development. I am the kind of person that never stops learning and since I was very young I focused my attention on studying new methods to improve my skills and myself in doing what I like and what I consider being the work I wanna do for a living. Even more, I also like to discover, explore and work with new technologies, because I tend to be very persuasive in all kinds of researches that can make better the way I work. I am very attentive to the details and I want to come up with the best solutions for developing web applications.
